Natural Resources Grants	Hennepin County	Grants are available for landowners, local governments and organizations for projects to preserve and restore critical corridors and wildlife habitat, reduce soil erosion and improve water quality. Project examples include: restore native vegetation, reseed pastures, stabilize stream banks, restore wetlands, build structures that reduce soil erosion and/or reduce stormwater runoff volume and/or increase infiltration, install grass waterways, install vegetated filter strips, implement manure management practices, construct rain gardens. Funding from the April 2014 grant application period ranged from $6,000 - $15,000.	The following entities in Hennepin County: individual landowners, non-profit and non-governmental organizations, local government agencies, businesses	Up to $50,000. Grant shall not exceed 75% of the total eligible project cost. Landowner 25% contribution can be cash and/or in-kind contribution	October 15, 2014	http://www.hennepin.us/residents/environment/natural-resources-funding#natural-resources-grants	Tony Brough: anthony.brough@co.hennepin.mn.us 612-348-4378
Targeted Watershed Demonstration Program	MN BWSR	BWSR created the Targeted Watershed Demonstration Program and is seeking nominations for three to six project watersheds to participate. Eligible watersheds are those where the amount of change to achieve a water quality improvement is known, the types of actions required to achieve those results have been identified, and a significant amount of those actions can be implemented within a four-year timeframe. Priority will be given to watersheds where there are current water quality impairments or priority water resources near the tipping point of becoming impaired. Proposed watersheds should have the threat to the water resource clearly identified, a thorough understanding of the pollution sources and pathways within the watershed, and baseline water quality data against which change can be assessed.	Eligible applicants include Watershed Districts, Watershed Management Organizations, and Watershed-based Joint Power Organizations. Counties, Soil and Water Conservation Districts and formal partnerships of these organizations with a hydrologic watershed contained wholly within the partnership boundary are also eligible to apply. Applicants must be working under a current state approved and locally adopted water management plan.	$5,250,000; 25% cash match required (in-kind services are not considered a match)	All responses must be electronically delivered to BWSR.Grants@state.mn.us - 4:30 p.m. on August 29, 2014	http://www.bwsr.state.mn.us/grants/apply/Targeted_Watershed_RFI_FY15_FINAL.pdf	http://www.bwsr.state.mn.us/grants/apply/index.html
Great Lakes Shoreline Cities Green Infrastructure Grants	USEPA	EPA is soliciting grant applications from qualifying Great Lakes shoreline cities seeking funding assistance for green infrastructure projects that improve Great Lakes water quality. EPA is making available up to $4.5 million of Great Lakes Restoration Initiative (GLRI) funds for this purpose. Under the terms of this solicitation, the term “green infrastructure projects” refers to installations which, through the use of natural systems or engineered systems that mimic natural systems: 1) treat, slow or capture polluted runoff; and 2) reduce the amount or improve the quality of runoff that drains into Great Lakes near shore areas or sewer systems that discharge into Great Lakes near shore areas.	EPA is willing to match, dollar-for-dollar, any contribution the city makes, up to $250,000. EPA's contribution will help cover the city's cost of installing/implementing green infrastructure projects(s) on publicly owned property within city limits. Project costs may include costs for design, engineering, and/or working with stakeholders and residents; however, at least 75% of the total costs (EPA funding plus non-EPA funding) must be for on-the-ground implementation of green infrastructure. EPA will allow the use of in-kind services for up to 50 percent of the city's contribution.	$4.5 mil available; up to $250,000 match	September 1, 2014	http://www.epa.gov/grtlakes/fund/shoreline/	Sharon Jaffess, Acting Chief of the Great Lakes National Program Office - Policy, Coordination &amp; Communications Branch, (312) 353-0536; or Tina Davis, Shoreline Cities Project Coordinator, (312) 353-8254. jaffess.sharon@epa.gov and davis.tina@epa.gov.
Regional Conservation Partnership Program	USDA NRCS	The NRCS is working to identify and address natural resource objectives and implement conservation practices and activities to deliver environmental benefits locally, regionally, and nationally. Through the new Farm Bill, NRCS has been given the authority to enhance regional cooperation to more effectively implement and maintain conservation activities, thereby promoting the restoration and sustainable use of soil, water, wildlife, and related natural resources on regional or watershed scales. NRCS will co-invest in mobilizing creative and workable solutions to agricultural production and resource management challenges. These solutions will benefit not only individual farming, ranching, and forest operations, but also local economies and the communities and resource users in a watershed or other geographic area that depend on the quality of the natural resources. Clean Water Fund Competitive Grants	BWSR	The primary purpose of activities funded with grants associated with the Clean Water Fund is to restore, protect, and enhance water quality. Eligible activities must be consistent with a watershed management plan that has been state approved and locally adopted or an approved total maximum daily load study (TMDL), Watershed Restoration and Protection Strategy document, surface water intake plan, or well head protection plan. Local governments may include programs and projects in their grant application that are derived from an eligible plan of another local government. BWSR may request documentation outlining the cooperation between the local government submitting the grant application and the local government that has adopted the plan. Eligible activities can consist of structural practices and projects, non-structural practices and measures, project support, and grant management and reporting. Technical and engineering assistance necessary to implement these activities are considered essential and are to be included in the total project or practice cost. (see specific categories below)	More than $17 million in grant and loan funds is available in a number of program categories to counties, cities, soil and water conservation districts, water management organizations, watershed districts and certain joint powers boards. In response to this appropriation, BWSR created Soil Erosion and Drainage Law Compliance (SEDLC) grants. The purpose of these grants is to restore and protect surface water quality, particularly Impaired Waters, and to supplement local efforts to sustain clean water in Minnesota, by applying existing soil erosion reduction and drainage ditch statutes, and associated rules.	Eligible applicants include SWCDs, Watershed Districts, WMOs, Counties, Cities2, and JPBs of these organizations. Accelerated Implementation	BWSR	Before on-the-ground clean water projects get implemented, there is the need for pre-project identification, planning and design. This grant invests in building capacity for local governments to accelerate on-the-ground projects that improve or protect water quality and perform above and beyond existing standards. Whether it is conducting inventories of potential pollutant sites, utilizing existing analytical targeting tools, providing technical assistance or increasing citizen interaction, local governments will be better prepared to increase the installation of water quality projects and practices after receiving these grants	SWCDs, Watershed Districts, WMOs, Counties, Cities2, and JPBs of these organizations. Regional Conservation Partnership Program	USDA	NRCS is the Department of Agriculture's (USDA) conservation agency working to identify and address natural resource objectives and implement conservation practices and activities to deliver environmental benefits locally, regionally, and nationally. Through the new Farm Bill, NRCS has been given the authority to enhance regional cooperation to more effectively implement and maintain conservation activities, thereby promoting the restoration and sustainable use of soil, water, wildlife, and related natural resources on regional or watershed scales. NRCS will co-invest in mobilizing creative and workable solutions to agricultural production and resource management challenges. These solutions will benefit not only individual farming, ranching, and forest operations, but also local economies and the communities and resource users in a watershed or other geographic area that depend on the quality of the natural resources. Great Lakes Restoration Initiative - Partners for Fish and Wildlife	FWS	The Great Lakes Restoration Initiative targets the most significant environmental problems in the Great Lakes ecosystem by funding and implementing federal projects that address these problems. One goal is to improve habitat and wildlife protection and restoration. Using funding from the Great Lakes Restoration Initiative, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Partners for Fish and Wildlife (PFW) Program anticipates funding wetland and associated upland habitat restoration and enhancement projects for conservation of native Great Lakes fish and wildlife populations, particularly migratory birds. Restoration projects will be completed on privately owned (non-federal/non-state) lands. Emphasis will be placed on, but not limited to, completing projects within the watersheds of Great Lakes Areas of Concern.	The PFW Program is a voluntary, incentive-based program that provides technical and financial assistance to private landowners to restore and conserve fish and wildlife habitat. The PFW Program is not a traditional grants program; it is a direct federal assistance program. The PFW Program does not solicit projects through a request for proposals. Instead, projects are developed in collaboration and with substantial involvement from PFW field biologists. In the Great Lakes, PFW biologists from eight states work directly with landowners to plan and implement projects based on priorities and geographic focus areas identified in a regional strategic plan.
